

MARLIN A SOURCE OF FINANCING FOR ADT CUSTOMERS

ADT Commercial Sales:

We are pleased to announce that ADT has officially partnered with Marlin for all ADT commercial sales to consider for their customers' security equipment financing needs. Many of you have worked with Marlin in the past. The positive feedback from your experiences with Marlin, was instrumental in us partnering with Marlin as a financing company for our customers.

Over the last 20 years, Marlin, a publicly traded bank holding company, has developed a solid reputation for success and innovation within the Security Industry. Marlin's value proposition is centered on a high level of personalized service and attention to detail, that is rarely found in today's marketplace.

The team from Marlin has demonstrated their commitment to providing our customers, best in class financing solutions and overall customer service throughout the customer engagement process. Over the next week or so, each of you will be hearing from your Marlin single point of contact. If you have not previously experienced Marlin's offering, I suggest that you consider working with them on your next sales opportunity. For immediate financing information, please contact:

Sincerely,
